

"Matters in physics have now reached such a pitch that, it is almost impossible for the non-scientist to discriminate between the legitimately weird and outright crackpot."

Paul Davies in Nature